

Congratulations to Queen Bev White

Carol Ronnow, Dorothy Crofts
To Be Homecoming Attendants

by Jackie Richardson
Daily Universe Reporter

"You're our queen, Beverly," announced the Homecoming Queen Committee as she came through the door with a stunned look on her face.

"Oh, you kids, I don't deserve it at all!" she modestly exclaimed. "Every one of the girls is a Homecoming queen." She bubbled over with gratefulness and expressed the wish that she could represent the student body well.

BEVERLY WHITE was elected Homecoming queen in Tuesday's election along with Carol Ronnow, first attendant, and Dorothy Crofts, second attendant.

Beverly said that her first reaction was that she couldn't imagine what was happening. This is understandable as it was arranged so that each girl was first informed of her winning as she entered a room full of people, cameras, and bright lights. In this way, the girl's first reactions to winning could be recorded.

BEATIFUL and vivacious describes Beverly, a green-eyed brunette who is one of the busiest persons on campus. She has been drum major with the band for three years, was first attendant to the "Belle of the Y" and Belle of the Athenian Dixie Ball last year.

She is very talented in many fields; she sings, dances and plays the piano. She toured the Far East and eastern United States this summer with the program bureau and Kia Ora club.

A small town near Brigham City is her home. She is very anxious to tell her father the news, because he had no idea that she was even in the running. Her father is second counselor in the ward, one brother is planning to go on a mission soon and another brother is now a freshman at the University of Utah.

FIRST ATTENDANT, Carol Ronnow, was absolutely speechless. She peeked in but was scared by the bright lights, so she backed out the door. She returned with her hands over her face and when she was told that she was an attendant she nearly fainted.

CUTE, VIVACIOUS Carol was the shortest of the contestants standing 5'2". She is a songleader, former Val Myric Sweetheart, attendant to the Belle of the Y and a member of the O. S. Trovata social unit.

A native of Las Vegas, Nev., she was sponsored by the Athenian social unit. She is a senior majoring in elementary education and transferred from the University of Arizona.

DOROTHY CROFT caused the biggest excitement when her friends learned that she had been chosen second attendant. They rushed in the room, hugged her, screamed and shouted.

Dorothy, herself surprisedly asked "What is this?" when she saw all the people and lights and graciously said "Thank you very much" when told. She was radiantly happy and very excited.

Like Beverly, her parents didn't even know that she was in the final five. The contest has kept her too busy to write.

Dorothy is a stately blue-eyed blond, tallest girl in the finals. She is senior class secretary and an executive secretarial major. California is her home state and she attended San Jose State for a year. She is a member of the Val Norm social unit.

The three girls will reign over the many varied activities of Homecoming Week, October 10-15.

BEY BEAMS—Carol Ronnow, first attendant, and Dorothy Crofts (l), second attendant, congratulate Beverly White as she is told that she has been chosen Homecoming Queen. Royalty beam at prospect of reigning over Homecoming.

Whites Want Republic, Suppress African Negro

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Oct. 5 (UPI)—South African whites voted today on giving their government from monarchy to a republic to insure their continued domination of the nation's 11 million vote-non-whites.

A nationwide referendum, in which only the 1.5 million whites were eligible to participate, asked voters to decide if South Africa should replace King's Queen Elizabeth II with a Congo-like uprising here, called for a "no" vote in the referendum.

THE PRE-REFERENDUM campaign pegged the vote solely on the white supremacist policies of Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's government. The streets of Johannesburg were plastered with posters urging "Keep South Africa a Vote republic now."

Verwoerd, in a million "Dear Dad" letters to voters, based case for a republic largely on the color issue.

IF WE DO NOT TAKE this step now, we ourselves may die, but our children certainly will experience all the things of whites who are being attacked and driven out of reception Wednesday afternoon in 110 Brimhall Bldg. will be the new dean of the College of Biological and Agricultural Sciences, Rudger H. Walker, and his wife.

Walker was installed in his Sept. 1. Prior to coming to Utah Young University he was dean at Utah State University of the College of Agriculture. He joined them in 1938. His reception is being sponsored for the faculty, staff, president and trustees and will be an openhouse from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

one African territory after another," he wrote.

The Congo is only 600 miles from South Africa and Belgians who fled here after the army mutiny in July brought tales of plunder, rape and humiliation.

AFRIKAANERS, whites of Dutch descent, form the backbone of the white supremacist struggle. English-speaking whites and their newspapers, while conceding the possibility of a Congo-like uprising here, called for a "no" vote in the referendum.

They said a setback for the ruling nationalist party could lead to a "healthy" political change which might head off repetition of the racial riots which erupted last March. They expressed fears that "yes" vote would isolate South Africa from the British commonwealth and much of the rest of the world.

SIR DE VILLERS GRAAFF, leader of the united party, sounded the keynote of the opposition.

"South Africa will face a hostile world if she is excluded from the Commonwealth, if the country becomes a republic," he said. "Our very existence in Africa is challenged. A republic cannot be a refuge from the harsh realities of life."

Verwoerd brushed this aside. "ONLY A REPUBLIC could unite the white peoples of South Africa which the monarchy failed to achieve," he said.

"South Africa must retain its white supremacy and the national party believes in developing non-whites in other ways than in equal political rights."

THE GOVERNMENT stopped the racial trouble in April, after 80 Africans had been killed, by instituting near martial law and jailing hundreds of opposition leaders.

At the height of the trouble Verwoerd was seriously wounded in an assassination attempt by a white, English-speaking farmer, David Pratt, but has recovered.

Chartered Buses To Transport Students to Game

Chartered buses will transport BYU students to the Utah game Friday night.

Tickets for the trip will be sold in the ticket office of the Joseph Smith Building. For $1.25 per person, round trip. Sales will start Wednesday afternoon and continue until 7 p.m. Thursday or until they are sold out.

Buses will leave from road-way west of the Smith Family Living Center and arrive at the Stadium at 7:45 p.m. Buses will return to Provo at 11 p.m.

Students are advised to take the buses rather than drive their own automobiles because of limited parking facilities at the University of Utah due to the large attendance expected. Travel to and from the game will be hampered because of the many conference visitors.

First Attendant . . . Carol shows surprise at news.

Bey . . . happy, surprised to reign over 1960 Homecoming.

Dorothy . . . Second Attendant seems shocked when notified.

'Embraceable' Doll Becomes Children's Fad

The latest children's toy fad, now sweeping Japan like wildfire and beginning to attract attention in the United States, is an unusual "Embraceable" doll called a Dakkichen.

Like the hoola-hoop of last year, children of all ages and adults too, can be seen walking down Tokyo's Ginza with Dakkichens clinging firmly to arms or hands.

THE DOLL is made of foiled black plastic, with an oval-shaped head and two large dog-eared-shaped ears. The most unusual feature of the doll are its blinking eyes and stumpy, clinging arms and legs. These limbs clamp firmly around any object to which they are attached. The dolls can be seen clinging to broom handles, baby carriages, and motorcycle handlebars.

THE JAPAN Trade Center in New York City has been deluged with letters, postcards and telephone calls seeking to know how the doll can be purchased.

Indian Tree Symbolizes Growth, Influence of Y

Fifty years ago, the name "Banyan" was chosen for the Brigham Young University yearbook. The name was submitted by Professor E. H. Eastmond because it represented President Karl G. Maeser's idea that the "Brigham Young Academy is the parent trunk of the great educational Banyan tree."

TODAY this name is even more appropriate than when it was selected. BYU is the center of the Church educational system with many supporting junior colleges and institutes.

According to the World Book Encyclopedia, the Banyan tree is a strange tree, native to India. A single Banyan tree may reach in its inimitable way, the size of a grove or a small forest.

Banyan seeds are dropped by birds into the crowns of palms or other forest trees. There, the seeds find enough moisture to grow and send down roots to the ground.

The branches develop and supports grow down and take root as soon as they touch the soil. These supports enlarge, becoming trunks which in turn develop new branches. In time the host tree is killed and the Banyan tree stands supported on its many trunks.

It usually grows by itself rather than in groups. The largest known Banyan tree grows on the island of Ceylon, and has 350 large trunks and over 3,000 small ones.

Another great and famous Banyan tree is found at Calcutta, India. The tree covers an area more than 1,000 feet around. It is reported that 7,000 people once gathered under its leaves.

The Banyan tree derives its name from the fact that Hindu merchants often spread their goods in the shade of these trees. The Hindu word for trader is "banian."

The tree's sticky white sap is used by Hindu physicians to deaden toothache and reduce swollen feet. Birdlime, an extremely sticky substance used to catch birds, is also produced from banyan sap.

In another way, the word Banyan symbolizes the influence which the university exerts on society as its products build their place in the world.

Cadillac's Humiliation . . .

Wow! Didja See That Truck?

ASHAWA, Ont., (UPI)—General Motors officials frantically attempted to find some way of shaving three-fifths of an inch off the width of their prestige car, the 1961 Cadillac Fleetwood 75 limousine.

If they don't come up with a solution, the plush limousine, selling at an average price of about $16,000 will have sport amber and green truck lights on its left front and rear fenders.

Under Ontario law, the legal width limit for a car is 80 inches. Truck lights are required over that limit. The new Fleetwoods are 80 and 8/5 inches wide.

Fines of $50 to $900 may be imposed on car dealers selling the limousine without the lights.

Larry Gough, GM public relations director, said the corporation "fully intends to abide by the law . . . we'll do something about it, but right now I can't say what."

The extra width stems in part from two chrome strips added along the limousine's side panels and rear fenders. Over 1961 Cadillacs, which are 79.8 inches wide, don't have these strips.

In Skyline...

Farmers, Utes Loom As Threat to Pokes

by Danny Moore
University Sports Editor

University of Wyoming's domination of Skyline football could come to an end this season. The explosive Utah State Aggies and the defensive-minded University of Utah Redskins loom as potential "spoilers" of the Pokes' two year hold on the conference crown.

The Skyline picture could be a tight three-way battle between these three teams.

UTAH STATE is the only Skyline team still included in the nation's undefeated ranks. They claim wins over Texas Western and, within the conference, Montana and Denver. Coach John Ralston's Aggies humiliated the Denver Pioneers 31-8 last week at Logan. They smashed a total of 506 yards, 467 of these coming in a bruising ground attack paced by speedster, Tom Larshede, the nation's number four rusher.

The University of Utah lost their first game of the season last week, bowing to Oregon 20-17. The Redskins scored in nearly every possible way in their losing effort.

Burly Gary Chestang booted a 31-yard field goal in the first quarter and quarterback, Terry Nofsinger, teamed with end, Joe Borich for a 61-yard pass and run TD play in the fourth quarter. Also in the fourth period, the Utes' tiny Stanley Usheshiro took an Oregon kick-off on his own two yard line, started up the middle, swerved to the sideline, and, behind a beautiful blocking, snaked all the way for the score.

THE Utes are favored this Friday as they play Brigham Young in Salt Lake City. Wyoming entertains Denver Saturday in the only other Skyline game.

Cats Prime For Ute

by Marilyn Curtis
Universe Sports Writer

With defeat still stinging their pride, the Brigham Young University Cougar football team will engage the University of Utah in Salt Lake City Friday night. This will be the thirty-sixth meeting of the two teams and the Utes are holding a strong advantage. As the underdog in the series, BYU has won 2, lost 29, and tied 4.

In the rain last year the Utes downed the Cats, 20-8. Brigham Young's last win was in 1955, a 14-7 upset. The Cougars' only other win was way back in 1942. In play this season, the Utes held a 2-1 record, including wins over Hawaii, 35-6, and Arizona, 13-3. Last week they found their first defeat at the hands of Oregon, losing in the second half, 20-17.

The Brigham Young University eleven has a 1-2 record, having defeated Cal Poly in their opener, 34-14. Losses have been to San Jose 21-3, and last week to Colorado State, 8-7.

The loss at Colorado, aside from giving the Cougars their first loss in conference play, did show that the Cat squad has a very effective ground attack and is building up a heretofore weak passing game.

BYU Soccer Club To Hold Meeting, Schedules Games

The Brigham Young University Soccer Club will hold its organization meeting Friday, Oct. 14, at 5 p.m. in room 1121 Smith Family Living Center.

Nigel Cook, temporary president of the club, stressed that all persons interested in playing soccer, especially international students who played in their home-lands, should attend the first meeting.

Games have been scheduled and practices have been set up.

Last year the University of Utah held a 5-5 record while the BYU had a 6-4 overall record. Utah lost 15 conference games, including eight starters, but still has a strong squad.

The game Friday night, a conference kickoff for the Utes, will start at 8:30 in the D-E Stadium in Salt Lake. This will be a BYU home game, but to accommodate the crowd the stadium will be held in the 30,000 capacity stadium.

Capacity crowds were reported at BYU-Utah encounters held at the Ute Stadium in 1955 again in 1958. The crowd year should exceed usual attendance due to LDS General Conference also being held weekend in Salt Lake.
